

Don't drink on the job

An upgrade on the original Lion AlcoBlow, the AlcoBlow RapidTest (available through AlcoSole) features several product enhancements, developed as a direct result of feedback from customers. Similar to the previous model, the AlcoBlow RapidTest requires no physical contact between the subject and the machine, and needs only a short breath sample for an accurate reading. This not only enhances hygiene and cost effectiveness, it also makes sampling far quicker. Within seconds of sampling, a light appears and a tone will sound to indicate the presence of alcohol. The system then automatically cleans itself ready to test the next subject. The AlcoBlow RapidTest has also been updated to deliver a simple pass or fail result that detects if there is any alcohol on the breath or not, rather than giving alcohol levels. This further speeds the testing process.
